FEAST DAYS THIS WEEK

25/12 The Nativity of the Lord

PRAYER FOR VOCATIONS

Jesus you are the Good Shepherd who is always mindful of your Church.

Watch over those who are baptised in your name and grant peace and harmony to all families. We ask you to choose from the families of our Parish many priests, deacons, sisters and brothers who will gladly spend their lives making you known and loved. Amen.

Prayer in time of COVID

Almighty and eternal God, our refuge in every danger, to whom we turn in our distress; in faith we pray look with compassion on the afflicted, grant eternal rest to the dead, comfort to mourners, healing to the sick, peace to the dying, strength to healthcare workers, wisdom to our leaders and the courage to reach out to all in love, so that together we may give glory to your holy name. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you in unity of the Holy Spirit, God forever and ever. Amen.

MAY GOD BLESS YOU ALL WITH A HAPPY & PEACEFUL CHRISTMAS SEASON A reason for the Season.

I knew someone once; we use to call her "Billy". She really would be pleased that I am telling you this. She is in heaven now. As an old lady, Billy would sit in our parish church every Christmas and cry. It was because every Christmas she would remember the years past when as a young alcoholic mother she would spend Christmas Day and indeed most days in an alcoholic haze. Her four children would always do without. She would remember their disappointed little faces when they saw that Santa had been to every other house in the street but not theirs. And no matter how many years she lived in sobriety those memories would always come up to haunt her. She didn't now then what she knows now. There are a lot of Billie's out there. I know people who have deliberately gone away this Christmas or who have physically shut themselves in their house so that they don't have to face the past or the relatives with whom they have differences. I know people who have been dreading today. I know people who are not looking forward to today; to sitting down to a Christmas dinner with everyone else because someone they have loved is no longer alive and therefore not there. Or they have someone who has not remembered them this Christmas and it's a knife in their heart. So often Christmas tends to show up what divides us, what is unhealed, who and what is missing. Grief is so often worse at Christmas. That makes sense really, because today we celebrate the person Jesus who does unite, who heals, who restores and who by his very presence in our lives tells us that things do not have to stay the way they are. I wish Billy had seen that. She could have lived without the haunting memories. God has truly come, and he has come to unite what is divided. To heal what is broken. To restore who and what has been lost. To captivate us as only a little baby can and to make us see that all things are possible. You know, the Truth is this. HE CAME FOR YOU! There was a phrase a long time ago that said "Jesus is the reason for the season". Jesus would say "YOU are the reason for the season. You haunted with memories today I came for You! You who are running away because you can't face people, I came for You. Yes you, you are sitting on your own with no one around you, I came for You. You, who are frightened about what is to come. I came for You!" "Can you hear me? "God says. "I came for YOU. Bethlehem for me is where, wherever You are. I came to give you fresh memories. I came to fill you with courage for what is to come. I came to restore what has been lost". He has a vested interest in US in getting the message this Christmas and every Christmas. He is hoping that throughout this coming year that YOU LET HIM to make a difference in your life, but you'll let Him keep coming. When you wish someone a Happy Christmas today, may I suggest that you look them in the eye and when you utter the words "Happy Christmas", pray swiftly in your heart for that person. May you know that HE CAME FOR YOU. Go fill as many houses and streets as possible with that wish and pray. Souls will hear and the Christmas Good News will truly have come. An angel, you will have visited them and told their hearts" I bring you tidings of great joy for today in your Bethlehem a Saviour has been born for you!" I pray that this Christmas that you will feel that prayer deep within you. A very blest an holy Christmas to you All. God Bless! Fr. Michael.
